Early Life and Career

Daniel Jacob Radcliffe was born on July 23, 1989, in London, England. His parents, Alan Radcliffe and Marcia Gresham, were both actors. Radcliffe began acting at the age of 10, when he was cast in the BBC television film "David Copperfield." In 2001, he made his film debut in "The Tailor of Panama." However, it was his role as Harry Potter in the 2001 film "Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone" that would make him a global superstar.

Radcliffe played Harry Potter in all eight of the Harry Potter films, which were released between 2001 and 2011. The films were a huge success, grossing over $7 billion worldwide. Radcliffe's performance as Harry Potter was critically acclaimed, and he won numerous awards for his work, including the BAFTA Award for Best Actor in a Leading Role in 2011.

Post-Harry Potter Career

After the Harry Potter films ended, Radcliffe embarked on a successful career in film and theater. He has starred in a variety of films, including "The Woman in Black" (2012), "Kill Your Darlings" (2013), "Now You See Me 2" (2016), and "Swiss Army Man" (2016). He has also appeared in several stage productions, including "Equus" (2007), "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" (2011), and "The Cripple of Inishmaan" (2018).

Radcliffe's post-Harry Potter career has been marked by his willingness to take on challenging and diverse roles. He has played everything from a grieving widower in "The Woman in Black" to a gay poet in "Kill Your Darlings" to a talking corpse in "Swiss Army Man." Radcliffe's performances have been consistently praised by critics, and he has established himself as one of the most versatile and talented actors of his generation.

Personal Life

Daniel Radcliffe is a private person who rarely speaks about his personal life. However, it is known that he has been in a relationship with actress Erin Darke since 2012. The couple lives together in New York City.

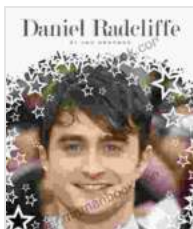

Radcliffe is also a philanthropist who supports a number of charities, including the Trevor Project, a non-profit organization that provides crisis intervention and suicide prevention services to LGBTQ+ youth.

Future Projects

Daniel Radcliffe has a number of exciting projects in the works. He is set to star in the upcoming films "Weird: The Al Yankovic Story" (2022) and "The Lost City of D" (2022). He is also set to make his Broadway debut in the play "Merrily We Roll Along" in 2023.

Radcliffe is a multi-talented actor with a bright future ahead of him. He is sure to continue to entertain audiences for many years to come.
